AUTO RAMS BRIDGE INTO SILVER CREEK

Two Negroes Have Miraculous Escape When They Smash Car Into Steel Structure

That Buick touring car that Burton Roberts sold Jailer W. H. Burgess sho' has some good engine in it, according to Host-n Quisenberry and Ed Black, two colored boys, who knocked the steel bridge off Silver Creek just north of Berea with it late Thursday afternoon. The car then buried itself in the water and mud of the creek and a wrecking crew was engaged all of Friday endeavoring to salvage what was left of the car.

The two negroes escaped with their lives but seem lucky to have done so. They hit the end of the big steel structure an awful blow. The bridge has four spans and is about 70 feet in length, but the ramming they gave it, pushed it off its foundation and messed things up so that traffic to and from Berea by that route is going to be blocked some little time.

The two men had been sent by Jailer Burgess to take a colored woman to Bobtown, according to the story told this morning. They were supposed to return at once to Richmond, but got on the road to Berea in some way. They claim that they lost the road, it is said. Anyway, they were speeding up at a rapid rate, and turning the curve at the bridge, and evidently not expecting it, were unable to get it straightened out for the center of the bridge in time to navigate it safely. The men were thrown into the water with the bridge went down, and had to swim out. Neither was seriously hurt, for a wonder. Many thought it a miracle that they were not instantly killed. The car is said to be a complete wreck.

GOVERNOR USES THE BOOT

Frankfort, Ky., Dec. 12.—When Gov. Morrow yesterday informed the State Board of Control of Penal Institutions that Chairman Henry B. Hines, of Bowling Green, and Thomas Hatcher, of Pikeville, must resign as members of the board else he would remove them on the charge of political activity, the board resigned in a body. George Caywood, Secretary of the board, will have charge of the work until the new members qualify. The Governor then announced the appointment, as their successors of a bipartisan board which will serve without compensation. They are: Dr. W. A. Gansfield, of Centre College; Fred M. Sackett and Edward Hines, of Louisville; Clarence U. McElroy, of Bowling Green, and Mrs. Lafon K. Baker, of Harrodsburg, president of the State Federation of Women's Clubs.

MY, HOW TOBACCO IS PAYING

The Versailles Sun had these tobacco notes this week: It is said that one large tobacco grower of Woodford county and his tenants will probably realize this year more than $75,000 from their tobacco.

Jas. L. Cleveland, near Payne's Depot, sold in Lexington Friday 13,000 pounds of tobacco raised on about 9 acres of land for an average of $1,314 an acre.

C. A. Howard, of Versailles, and M. M. Thompson sold a tobacco crop from 111 acres for $10,000, an average of over $900 an acre.

Roland Faust, 16-year-old son of Adam Faust, of the Mt. Vernon neighborhood, grew a crop of 945 pounds of tobacco in his father's garden that sold for $648.70 in Lexington last week. Roland is a student in the Midway high school.

IF more than a million homes were not warmed today with a Moore's Air Tight Heater, the coal shortage would be more serious. Get one today from W. F. Higgins, and help in the big saving job.

I will begin receiving turkeys Friday, Dec. 5th and will receive until Dec. 13th, and pay you the highest market price as I have always done heretofore. Be sure you are here before calling.

JUDGE SHACKELFORD'S CROP TOPS MARKET

His Honor Sells Crops Off Bourbon Farm At $95.45 a Hundred—Had 9,945 Pounds

You have to go away from home often times to get the news. Friends knew that Circuit Judge W. R. Shackelford was building about five or so tobacco barns in Bourbon county during the summer. The Winchester Sun said Thursday: W. R. Shackelford, of the Clark circuit court, is a good judge and also a good tobacco raiser. While he was here administering justice Wednesday, the 9,945 pound crop owned jointly by the judge, Parish and Williams, grown on virgin soil on the Clay land on the Winchester pike, was sold in the Paris house of the Bourbon Tobacco Warehouse Company for $95.45 a hundred, a total of $9,522.20 for the crop. It is the cream of Bourbon county tobacco and conceded to be the best crop ever grown in the county. It was set by hand on May 15 following the season of rain that made transplanting easy and sure and it was harvested the last week in July. Standing in the patch it was nearly high as a man's head, was even and sound and looked like a field of golden grain.

NOVEMBER AVERAGE OF BURLEY WAS $28.17

The November report of tobacco sales in warehouses of the 1919 crop made to the State Department of Agriculture at Frankfort, shows the following figures:

Burley Tobacco sold for growers lbs. 70,550; amt. $202,67.69; av. $28.69.

WAGO YOUNGSTERS' CLOSE CALL IN WATER

High Waters of Muddy Creek Swept Them Off Horse But They Gaily Held On To Mane

Waco, Dec. 12.
James Curtis McKinney and Andrew Conroy Wallace had a narrow escape from drowning last Tuesday morning and nothing but the rare presence of mind of the little fellows saved them from a watery grave. They had some traps set across Muddy Creek, got on a horse and rode across to their traps. They noticed the creek was high and rising fast as they went across, but never thought but what they could get back in safety. They rode in as they came back, but it had gotten so high and swift, the horse began going down stream. The rushing water soon took their saddles and them off the horse. James Curtis being in front, caught hold of the horse's mane and Andrew hold of him; sometimes on the horse and then off. They kept this up until the horse landed some several yards down stream. The little heroes came out wet and cold, but thankful it was no worse. George lost his saddle, but says he had rather fish for the saddle than the boys.

M. G. Bush, of Paris, and Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Brock, of Richmond, were week-end visitors of Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Bush.

G. S. McKinney made a business trip to Mt. Sterling Tuesday.

But the sister testified that she did, and Leslie Grubbs said that she told him that she had shot at Mary. So there they are.

SINGS FOR VICTROLA; BILLY MURRAY HERE

The "Tip Top Merry-makers" presented "The Honey-mooners" to a good audience at the Opera House last night and are booked for two more performances this week. Murray sang three selections last night and received numerous encores. He will sing each evening. He has a wonderful tenor voice and it is a treat to hear him. The show tonight is entitled "The Search of a Million" which ought to interest everyone. The company is well balanced and puts on a nifty performance with plenty of pep and no lost motion.

SOME MINE OFFICIALS OPPOSE SETTLEMENT

On President's Plan and Fuel Administrator Garfield Hands In His Resignation

(By Associated Press)
Washington, Dec. 12.—The resignation of Fuel Administrator Garfield was forwarded to President Wilson this morning by Secretary Tumulty.

"Of course it will be accepted," it was said at the White House. The functions of the fuel administrator will be continued under Director General Hines, of the railroad administration, but this does not mean, it was said, that Hines will be made Fuel Administrator in Garfield's place. Garfield's position is understood to be that the government should not have been put in the position of surrendering to the miners. At the White House it was said Garfield's letter of resignation was not available.

Another lively development in the situation came today in a statement of mine officials of the central Pennsylvania district. While accepting the government's proposal for settlement of the strike, it declares it is "no settlement at all of the principles at stake," and that it "merely postpones a show down, which in our opinion, is bound to come." It asserts that government officials interfered with Garfield's method of settlement with the result that the "operators and public have been delivered into the hands of the United Mine Workers of America."

These Miners Don't Like It Either

(By Associated Press)

CHRISTIAN CHURCH PLANS A BIG DAY

The machinery is all being put in order for the annual Every Member Canvass at the Christian church Sunday afternoon. Fifty men from the church will constitute the teams which will reach every home in the congregation in three hours Sunday afternoon. The first function in connection with the canvass will be a dinner given by the women of the church at 6 o'clock this evening in the dining room of the church, to the members of the teams. Covers will be laid for the fifty men. Music and short addresses will feature the program.

A great service will be held Sunday morning at which every member of the church is being urged to be present. Mr. Carpenter will bring to this service the final challenge in a series of sermons on enlargement and the canvass will begin promptly at 2 o'clock. The program of the church, as being proposed, is more ambitious than in any previous year and although the past year has been one of large growth and progress, the coming year gives promise of far exceeding it. Many of the members of the church will increase and some double their subscriptions for current expenses and ministerial work.

Large numbers of the members of the congregation and was introduced by the pastor as a part of the educational campaign for the annual Canvass. The tithe will bring their additional offerings Sunday.

On Sunday night the team men will speak in the evening service reporting the results of the canvass and telling of their experiences during the afternoon.
